

2017 Treatment and Alternatives and Diversion (TAD) Competitive Funding Round Timeline

February 24, 2016	Send preliminary communication and distribute a survey to all counties and tribes in Wisconsin to gauge current county infrastructure and programming capacity (e.g., established CJCC, existing partnerships, treatment court/diversion programs, etc.).
March 16, 2016	Survey responses are due to DOJ.
April and May 2016	In April and May, DOJ and its partner agencies will be hosting three regional TAD Grant Writing Trainings around the state. These free trainings will be open to all counties and tribes and will focus on the TAD grant application requirements.
April 19 April 26 May 3	The dates and locations for these trainings are as follows: Tuesday, April 19: Fox Valley Technical College, Appleton Tuesday, April 26: Madison Police Dept. Academy, Madison Tuesday, May 3: Chippewa Valley Technical College, Eau Claire
May 2016	After the trainings, the TAD grant announcement will be released to all counties and tribes statewide.
June 30, 2016	TAD applications are due in DOJ's Egrants system.
July – August, 2016	TAD applications are reviewed by a peer review panel developed by DOJ. Applications will be scored based on the criteria established in the grant announcement and discussed at the grant writing trainings.
September 1, 2016	Grant awards and funding decisions are announced.
January 1, 2017	New TAD project period begins.
Spring 2017	Regional Treatment Court Standards Trainings and trainings regarding pretrial diversion programs are delivered to programs statewide.